FASHIONING DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM DRAFT

VEXATIOUS ISSUES BEING IRONED OUT, INSURING HARMONY

COMPROMISE REACHED ON THE KLAN CONTENTION

WET "BOMBSHELL" PROVED TO BE ONLY A DUD

(By United Press)

United Press Headquarters, Waldorf Hotel, New York, June 26.—After an all night struggle, marked by sharp but amiable difficulties, the drafting committee today brought forth the democratic platform for 1924, complete but for planks on the league of nations and the Ku Klux Klan.

Those vexatious issues remained to be ironed out today at a meeting of the resolutions committee.

Although alternate planks will be submitted on both the league and the Klan, adoption of compromise declarations on both issues by the committee was virtually assured.

That means a final decision will be squarely up to the convention itself.

Whether the extremists make good their threats to "carry the fight to the floor," remains to be seen, but leaders generally believe such action will be forestalled.

The sub-committee today resumed consideration of the alternative league and Klan planks drafted by Homer S. Cummings of Connecticut, chairman of the resolutions committee, and Senator Pittman of Nevada, secretary, who were appointed to do the work.

Cummings said he believed the platform as a whole could be submitted to the full committee before night, but that it probably would not be laid before the convention before tomorrow.

The Klan plank, which meets with almost unanimous favor in the committee, is a vigorous denunciation of all secret organizations which seek to impair racial equality and religious freedom, but does not mention the Klan by name.

After the pouring out of much bitterness by delegates during the past few days and the expression of loud demands that the Klan be named, it was with cold, hard political judgment that the members of the committee approached this issue. It was held to be political folly to name the Klan in a specific denunciation, thus "reading out of the party" all members of the order.

Three members of the committee, however, had been instructed to fight to the last for the plank denouncing the Klan by name. An alternate plank was drafted for submission to the full committee, but all indications are that if the Klan is to be named in the platform its advocates will have to make good their threats and carry the fight to the convention floor for the resolutions committee will not make such a report.

The wet "bombshell" proved to be a dud. Agitation for a wet plank quickly fizzled out. This plank, as adopted, calls for strict law enforcement and goes further in administering a stinging rebuke to the republican administration for failure to properly enforce the dry law. It was adopted with little opposition.

A new plank insofar as the democratic platform is concerned, provides for a referendum on war. This was written into the platform by William Jennings Bryan. It also amends the Constitution, which gives the president the right to declare war with the consent of Congress, and places such power entirely in the hands of the people.

The league of nations proved to be the most troublesome subject with which the committee had to wrestle. The plank which has the general approval of the committee is a definite compromise between the ideas advanced by former Associate Justice Clark of the supreme court and Owen D. Young, colleague of General Dawes on the German reparations report.

The league plank reaffirms Woodrow Wilson's belief in the league as the most effective instrument to prevent war and advocates a referen-

NESTOS LEADS SORLIE IN RACE FOR NOMINATION

(By United Press)

Fargo, N. D., June 26.—Governor R. A. Nestos continued to lead A. G. Sorlie in the race for the Republican nomination for governor as returns from yesterday's primary were counted today. With 741 precincts out of 2,160 reported, the vote was Nestos 38,982, Sorlie 28,239, a lead for Nestos of 10,743.

In spite of the Nestos lead Nonpartisan headquarters at Grand Forks claimed Sorlie's nomination by "from 12,000 to 22,000."

WOMAN GUIDES DEMOCRATS IN CONVENTION TODAY

FIRST TIME IN HISTORY OF THE GREAT PARTIES, WOMAN SO HONORED

MISS MAY KENNEDY OF THE BRONX, NAMED VICE-CHAIRMAN

(By United Press)

Madison Square Garden, New York June 26.—Under the guiding hand of a woman for the first time in the history of the great parties, the democratic national convention entered its third session today—a Smith for president session.

Chairman Walsh, after calling the convention to order at 11:23, introduced William W. Porter, member of the board of lectureship, to deliver the invocation, then turned over the gavel to Miss May Kennedy of the Bronx, elected yesterday as the first woman vice-chairman of a national convention. Standing coolly behind the microphones at the front of the rostrum, Miss Kennedy made a short address—a woman's keynote.

A tall woman, all in white, save for titian hair peeping from under a small white felt toque and beautiful red roses and lilies at her side, she faced the greatest crowd that has attended any session of the convention to date.

The Al Smith demonstration will be just before adjournment.

Immediately afterward a reception will be held at his stronghold, Tammany Hall, on Fourteenth street, where Al is expected to drop in and shake hands.

Miss Kennedy concluded her speech with the followig words:

"The secretary will proceed with the calling of the roll."

Governor Sweet of Colorado was recognized and seconded the nomination of William Gibbs McAdoo.

Appetite, Flat Wheels Impede Roller Skating Demon From Mill City

Minneapolis, June 26.—Undaunted by his failure to roller skate from Belle Prairie, Minn., to Minneapolis in one day, Alba Hall, Minneapolis, has set his mind on making the trip from Minneapolis to Faribault.

When the clock struck 4:15 a. m. Thursday Alba was on his toes at Belle Prairie 'rarin' to go. By noon he was whizzing along, averaging about 11 miles an hour. Everything was going nicely until he began to get hungry and six wheels went flat. As Hall calls them, "I got six punctures."

He was delayed by inquisitive persons and too many bends in the road which forced him to slacken his speed. He pulled into Elk River late Thursday night anything but discouraged.

Hall explained that he couldn't continue into Minneapolis because it was getting dark and some "wild" motorist might have hit him and he didn't have any bumpers. He has reissued the challenge to any one in the country for a race over any distance.

"OUR OWN AL SMITH" STARTS DEMONSTRATION

MAGIC WORDS CREATE UNPRECEDENTED ENTHUSIASM

NEW YORK DELEGATION IN A SOLID MASS LEAPS TO ITS FEET

(By United Press)

Madison Square Garden, New York June 26.—"Our own Al Smith."

The magic words touched off an explosion in Madison Square Garden just 32 minutes after 12 o'clock today, unprecedented in the history of great political conventions.

In a solid mass the New York delegation leaped to its feet as Franklin D. Roosevelt concluded his speech placing Smith in nomination.

From every corner of the garden—floor, ceiling, and, it appeared, from every seat—there arose a deafening shriek of sirens, the blare of horns, and whistles, the rattle of ticktacks and through it all could be heard faintly the efforts of several bands.

The parade got under way, the New York delegates in the van, headed by Joseph Collins, president of the board of aldermen.

Alaska, Massachusetts, New Jersey, Connecticut, Illinois, Minnesota, Rhode Island, Wisconsin, Pennsylvania, Nevada, Vermont, North Dakota, Hawaii and Iowa were among the standards which fell into line.

Now and then out of the bedlam groups of men would manage to be heard in unison—"The Sidewalks of New York."

A band would pass a given point. "East Side, West Side," it played, and then came cheers on all sides. Just a constant wave of noise swept everything before it.

When the demonstration had been under way for 20 minutes it was proceeding as enthusiastically, loudly and unanimously as it was with the opening shriek. It was real enthusiasm, by hundreds of men and women, only a relatively small part of them delegates.

Another band—more "Sidewalks of New York" for the moment passing the speaker's stand. The voices of men and women, joined clearly in the singing of the famous Tammany marching song. Another band — "East Side, West Side," — everyone marching in the same direction — young and old, men and women, boys and girls.

Word came in from outside the garden that thousands of people were packing the streets, Confetti was being thrown from the galleries upon the people, the stunts having been prepared for by pounds and pounds of paper.

The greatest crowd that ever packed Madison Square Garden was jammed into the structure by noon. Police lines were thrown about the building, all traffic was stopped, and orders were issued that no one would be permitted to even approach the garden.

The building was packed to the doors and thousands were standing in the aisles. What seemed to be thousands crashed through the doors without tickets and flooded the galleries. All of them were Smith boosters.

By 12:15 police cancelled all credentials, newspaper men were barred and reporters who happened to have left the hall could not get through the lines again to return.

Another band—this time is was "Tammany," another famous Tammany campaign yell. There were cheers for Roosevelt, and cheers for Miss May Kennedy, the vice-chairman.

The demonstration, when it reached the 30-minute mark, was still sustaned. The noise went on constantly. There were shrieks of sirens. Miss Kennedy started to throw her roses from the speaker's platform.

There were relatively few delegates in the marching hosts—most of them were for the most part there to vote, and they were of the opinion that if they left their seats they would never get back from the milling throng alive.

Police and firemen struggled thru the aisles trying to maintain a semblance of passageway, but it was futile.

One band took its place in the middle of the garden in the aisle and directly in front of the speaker's rostrum and played "The Sidewalks of New York."

After the demonstration had continued for 1 hour 15 minutes Roosevelt gave the first signal to the marchers to quiet down. There was an immediate reduction of noise. Then the chairman began pounding on the table for order. Roosevelt stood at his side. The sirens in the galleries stopped shrieking and the bands stopped playing.

Miss Anna Case, Metropolitan opera star, stepped to the front of the speaker's rostrum. A hushed silence fell over the great throng which a moment before was a deafening bedlam.

"O, Say Can You See," went up in silvery tones from the throat of the noted soprano as the band softly played the Star Spangled Banner. Then the chorus—"Sing, everybody" called Miss Case, and once more the Garden welled with the anthem.

The demonstration appeared to be over, but just some boys' band over on the far side of the garden broke suddenly through the silence—"East Side, West Side," and the demonstration was on again.

The sirens resumed their shrieking and the paraders resumed their march, yelling as if they had just begun.

A few minutes of this and Roosevelt again went to the front of the platform and ordered the bands to leave by the nearest exits. The Smith floor generals stood on chairs and signalled for quiet. Once more the sirens and other shrieking instruments ceased.

The delegates made their way in an orderly way to their seats. The huge Smith lithographed banners were folded, and one of the most deafening and orderly mass demonstrations ever held ended. It was a striking tribute by New Yorkers—most of them from humble stations—for a loved son. Even if nothing comes of it, it certainly was "Al's day" for the people.

Find Antique Bridge

New Barnet, England, June 26.—As the result of excavations at Trent Park, the residence of Sir Philip Sassoon, a drawbridge of great antiquity has been discovered. Roman daggers and sandals and some quaint horseshoes also have been unearthed. According to tradition, Dick Turpin used to hide in the moat in this park.

Women Seek Variety

Washington, June 26—With $75 with which to buy a suit, the average woman will prefer to buy three $25 suits, caring more for varied appearance than the wearing qualities of her garments, according to Mrs. Mary S. Woolman of Boston, who appeared before the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce in opposition to the truth-in-fabric bill.

"CAPPY RICKS" AND "THE BUBBLE" WIN HIGH FAVOR

TODAY IS "EDNA SWANSON VER HAAR DAY" ON THE PROGRAM

Last night, with the Cappy Ricks company presenting "Cappy Ricks" in a wonderful manner and measuring up to all possible expectations, the New Park Theatre seated the largest Chautauqua assemblage in the history of the city. The theatre had every seat taken and this means every seat on the main floor, every seat in all the boxes,every seat in the balcony and the gallery. One last seat available, that of the operator of the moving picture machine, was seized by a young hopeful, who got a view of the stage by poking his head through the porthole of the operator's booth. As far as you could see from main floor to the skyline of the gallery gods' section, it was a sea of interested faces.

And the comedy was "put over" naturally. There was no strained action on the part of the players. With the inspiration afforded by playng to such a huge house, it is no wonder the Cappy Ricks company outdid itself. There is probably on the road no company presenting "Cappy Ricks" with any greater ability than the company which performed here last night.

"The Bubble" presented in the afternoon, was in lighter vein, and was well rendered and pleased the large audience.

Today's Program

Today is Edna Swanson Ver Haar day. Many of Brainerd and the range country have heard this great contralto, internationally known, who has sung before the crowned heads of Europe. In all programs given in this city, she has always offered something new, something different. She has a most extensive repertoire.

In her company is Stanley Deacon, baritone, and in addition a splendid violinist, cellist and pianist. This combination will offer a great variety of solos and duets, and instrumental solos and ensemble numbers. The company gives two concerts, afternoon at 3 o'clock and in the evening at 7:45 o'clock. The programs will be two distinct and separate offerings.

In the evening there will be an addition following the concert, in the shape of Jessie Rae Taylor, characterist. Miss Taylor is unique and distinct in her field, and her entertainment will interest children as well as adults.

On Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock, the Welsh Miners Quartet will give a program characteristically Welsh. An addition has been made to the program offering an entirely new feature, a lecture by Dr. W. H. Beachler on "The Challenge of a New Day." Dr. Beachler, in his first talk in Brainerd made a most favorable impression at the Rotary club. The doctor is sure of a large audience in the afternoon. In this lecture the perils which confront the nation today are faced in a fearless manner and better citizenship ought to be the result of this message.

The evening program starts with a Welsh Miners' quartet prelude and is followed by Strickland Gillilan, humorist and philosopher, in "Just Among Ourselves." He will present a fine climax to the successful Chautauqua season.

There are three kinds of humorists: those who sweat-it-out laboriously and cram it; those who clip and memorize it; and Strick, who just stands up and talks by ear.

The parable, "A Prophet is Never Without Honor Save in His Own Country," does not apply to Gillilan. Four hundred and nineteen times Gillilan has spoken to capacity houses in his home town, and he has 627 engagements petitioned for.

For twenty years Strick Gillilan has talked in American towns and cities, from coast to coast and no man has a cleaner, better record. You will not only get your money's worth, you will not only laugh till your sides ache, you will come away with the definite impression that the race of fine-charactered and generous-impulsed men has not yet run out.

BREEZY POINT ZOO GETS 6 MONKEYS, 2 PARROTS, ETC.

(By United Press)

Breezy Point Lodge, June 26.—The zoo here this morning greeted several newcomers recently purchased by Mrs. W. H. Fawcett. They are six agile monkeys which will please the children; two beautiful parrots, gay in plumage and voluminous in talk; also two native owls, wise looking and taciturn.

The twin baby deer continue to hold the center of the stage and are eagerly sought out by visitors. The buffalos are interesting and the bear den, with added denizens, provokes much comment.

HIDE AND SEEK GAME WITH PROCESS SERVERS

WALTER HILL EVENTUALLY IS FOUND AT LAKE MINNETONKA

IS DEFENDANT IN A $200,000 BREACH OF PROMISE SUIT

St. Paul, June 26.—Walter Hill's game of hide and seek with process servers is ended.

The youngest heir to the late James J. Hill, empire builder, was found at a secluded, unpretentious cottage on Lake Minnetonka and handed papers in the $200,000 breach of promise suit instituted by Mrs. Bessie Gottlob, beautiful Chicago divorcee.

After a chase which trailed half way across the continent and back again, his St. Paul attorney found Hill late yesterday and served the summons. Mrs. Gottlob, it appeared, was instrumental in locating Hill. She hurried here from Chicago, engaged an attorney and soon the papers were served.

Mrs. Gottlob was still in St. Paul today stopping at a downtown hotel. She denied herself to interviewers, however, referring all inquiries to her legal representative here. The search for Hill began May 16 in Chicago when process servers went to his hotel and found he had flown.

Although the praecipe of the suit was filed in circuit court in Chicago May 16, details of the case have not been revealed.

Hill's first wife, Dorothy Barrows Hill, divorced him in 1921 and he married Mrs. Pauline Gislason, New York divorcee.

Mrs. Gottlob said she divorced her husband to marry Hill, acting upon his promises.

MELLON ANNOUNCES $500,000,000 SURPLUS

Washington, June 26.—Government receipts for the fiscal year ending June 30 will exceed expenses by more than $500,000,000, Secretary Mellon has reported. The tax reduction program submitted by Mr. Mellon was based on an estimated surplus of $323,000,000.

Discussing the excess over first estimates, the secretary said none of it could have been counted on when figures for the year were prepared. Some fifty millions of it, he explained, came from a cash payment by the British government, which heretofore has been usnig American government bonds to make its payment on the war debt, while another $55,000,000 came from the sale of railroad securities held from war settlement days by the railroad administration. March tax payments also exceeded expectation, as did the payments June 15.

F. D. ROOSEVELT NOMINATING GOV. AL SMITH

SMITH BELOVED BY EVERY CLASS AND COMMUNITY

HOLDS THE HEARTS OF THE MASSES, SAYS ROOSEVELT

New York, June 25.—"To meet again so many friends, whom I have not seen since the last Democratic gathering, gives me a thrill of pleasure. At that convention, where I myself received one of the highest honors of the party, I had the privilege of working and speaking on behalf of the then governor of New York. Today, four years later I carry the same mission, presenting the same governor, a man in whose behalf the best argument is the man himself.

"At San Francisco, you who were there came to know him as one greatly loved by his state, whose personality and picturesque rise to high office produced, as you will remember, a spontaneous wave of good feeling among the delegates from every section of our land. Today he has become more than a favorite son. He is known throughout the country as one of the real leaders, one of whom millions of Americans regardless of party, are proud. It has been suggested that we would attempt to sweep him through to victory at this convention upon a wave of emotional appeal.

"Let me assure you at the outset that I shall make no such endeavor.

"In the very suggestion, however, there is tribute to the strength of this man. There is no need for me to portray the profound love which goes out to him from every class and every section of the community. If you would know what the hearts of the masses hold for him, ask anyone, when you leave this session ask the woman who serves you in the shop, the banker who cashes your check; the man who runs your elevator; the clerk in your hotel; men, women and children, rich or poor, high or low, and you will be told with a convincing unanimity that first in the affections of the people of this state, first far above all others and the power of all others to attain, is the man who has twice been honored with election to the governorship of the state of New York. And this is true of men and women not only in this state, but in every part of the union where his name has come to be a symbol for honesty, for deep understanding and for splendid service to the people.

"These are factors, this is evidence which you, as judges or rather as a great jury of fourteen hundred assembled here to render an unbiased verdict, must take into account. You are stewards of a sacred trust. To you has been given the solemn, two fold duty of setting forth anew the principles of our party and of choosing a standerd bearer who will at once give the greatest assurance of ability to perform the functions of the chief executive and the greatest assurance of victory.

"To be true to that trust we must be true to ourselves and put from our hearts and minds every sordid consideration, every ignoble personal prejudice and every individual allegiance to anything whatsoever other than the sacred principle upon which our country and our party stands.

"So in our final action we shall put aside any appeal to any passion or to any prejudice.

"Our declaration of principles will unite every Democrat and convince the men and women voters of the United States that the time is at hand when the guidance of our government is to be entrusted to the hands of a democratic president and a democratic congress. The depth to which our federal government has fallen was well portrayed to you by my old friends, the temporary and

New Barnet, England, June 26.—As the result of excavations at Trent Park, the residence of Sir Philip Sassoon, a drawbridge of great antiquity has been discovered. Roman daggers and sandals and some quaint horseshoes also have been unearthed. According to tradition, Dick Turpin used to hide in the moat in this park.

Women Seek Variety

Washington, June 26—With $75 with which to buy a suit, the average woman will prefer to buy three $25 suits, caring more for varied appearance than the wearing qualities of her garments, according to Mrs. Mary S. Woolman of Boston, who appeared before the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce in opposition to the truth-in-fabric bill.

"CAPPY RICKS" AND "THE BUBBLE" WIN HIGH FAVOR

TODAY IS "EDNA SWANSON VER HAAR DAY" ON THE PROGRAM

Last night, with the Cappy Ricks company presenting "Cappy Ricks" in a wonderful manner and measuring up to all possible expectations, the New Park Theatre seated the largest Chautauqua assemblage in the history of the city. The theatre had every seat taken and this means every seat on the main floor, every seat in all the boxes,every seat in the balcony and the gallery. One last seat available, that of the operator of the moving picture machine, was seized by a young hopeful, who got a view of the stage by poking his head through the porthole of the operator's booth. As far as you could see from main floor to the skyline of the gallery gods' section, it was a sea of interested faces.

And the comedy was "put over" naturally. There was no strained action on the part of the players. With the inspiration afforded by playng to such a huge house, it is no wonder the Cappy Ricks company outdid itself. There is probably on the road no company presenting "Cappy Ricks" with any greater ability than the company which performed here last night.

"The Bubble" presented in the afternoon, was in lighter vein, and was well rendered and pleased the large audience.

Today's Program

Today is Edna Swanson Ver Haar day. Many of Brainerd and the range country have heard this great contralto, internationally known, who has sung before the crowned heads of Europe. In all programs given in this city, she has always offered something new, something different. She has a most extensive repertoire.

In her company is Stanley Deacon, baritone, and in addition a splendid violinist, cellist and pianist. This combination will offer a great variety of solos and duets, and instrumental solos and ensemble numbers. The company gives two concerts, afternoon at 3 o'clock and in the evening at 7:45 o'clock. The programs will be two distinct and separate offerings.

In the evening there will be an addition following the concert, in the shape of Jessie Rae Taylor, characterist. Miss Taylor is unique and distinct in her field, and her entertainment will interest children as well as adults.

On Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock, the Welsh Miners Quartet will give a program characteristically Welsh. An addition has been made to the program offering an entirely new feature, a lecture by Dr. W. H. Beachler on "The Challenge of a New Day." Dr. Beachler, in his first talk in Brainerd made a most favorable impression at the Rotary club. The doctor is sure of a large audience in the afternoon. In this lecture the perils which confront the nation today are faced in a fearless manner and better citizenship ought to be the result of this message.

The evening program starts with a Welsh Miners' quartet prelude and is followed by Strickland Gillilan, humorist and philosopher, in "Just Among Ourselves." He will present a fine climax to the successful Chautauqua season.

There are three kinds of humorists: those who sweat-it-out laboriously and cram it; those who clip and memorize it; and Strick, who just stands up and talks by ear.

The parable, "A Prophet is Never Without Honor Save in His Own Country," does not apply to Gillilan. Four hundred and nineteen times Gillilan has spoken to capacity houses in his home town, and he has 627 engagements petitioned for.

For twenty years Strick Gillilan has talked in American towns and cities, from coast to coast and no man has a cleaner, better record. You will not only get your money's worth, you will not only laugh till your sides ache, you will come away with the definite impression that the race of fine-charactered and generous-impulsed men has not yet run out.

BREEZY POINT ZOO GETS 6 MONKEYS, 2 PARROTS, ETC.

(By United Press)

Breezy Point Lodge, June 26.—The zoo here this morning greeted several newcomers recently purchased by Mrs. W. H. Fawcett. They are six agile monkeys which will please the children; two beautiful parrots, gay in plumage and voluminous in talk; also two native owls, wise looking and taciturn.

The twin baby deer continue to hold the center of the stage and are eagerly sought out by visitors. The buffalos are interesting and the bear den, with added denizens, provokes much comment.

HIDE AND SEEK GAME WITH PROCESS SERVERS

IS DEFENDANT IN A $200,000 BREACH OF PROMISE SUIT

St. Paul, June 26.—Walter Hill's game of hide and seek with process servers is ended.

The youngest heir to the late James J. Hill, empire builder, was found at a secluded, unpretentious cottage on Lake Minnetonka and handed papers in the $200,000 breach of promise suit instituted by Mrs. Bessie Gottlob, beautiful Chicago divorcee.

After a chase which trailed half way across the continent and back again, his St. Paul attorney found Hill late yesterday and served the summons. Mrs. Gottlob, it appeared, was instrumental in locating Hill. She hurried here from Chicago, engaged an attorney and soon the papers were served.

Mrs. Gottlob was still in St. Paul today stopping at a downtown hotel. She denied herself to interviewers, however, referring all inquiries to her legal representative here. The search for Hill began May 16 in Chicago when process servers went to his hotel and found he had flown.

Although the praecipe of the suit was filed in circuit court in Chicago May 16, details of the case have not been revealed.

Hill's first wife, Dorothy Barrows Hill, divorced him in 1921 and he married Mrs. Pauline Gislason, New York divorcee.

Mrs. Gottlob said she divorced her husband to marry Hill, acting upon his promises.

MELLON ANNOUNCES $500,000,000 SURPLUS

Washington, June 26.—Government receipts for the fiscal year ending June 30 will exceed expenses by more than $500,000,000, Secretary Mellon has reported. The tax reduction program submitted by Mr. Mellon was based on an estimated surplus of $323,000,000.

Discussing the excess over first estimates, the secretary said none of it could have been counted on when figures for the year were prepared. Some fifty millions of it, he explained, came from a cash payment by the British government, which heretofore has been usnig American government bonds to make its payment on the war debt, while another $55,000,000 came from the sale of railroad securities held from war settlement days by the railroad administration. March tax payments also exceeded expectation, as did the payments June 15.

F. D. ROOSEVELT NOMINATING GOV. AL SMITH

SMITH BELOVED BY EVERY CLASS AND COMMUNITY

HOLDS THE HEARTS OF THE MASSES, SAYS ROOSEVELT

New York, June 25.—"To meet again so many friends, whom I have not seen since the last Democratic gathering, gives me a thrill of pleasure. At that convention, where I myself received one of the highest honors of the party, I had the privilege of working and speaking on behalf of the then governor of New York. Today, four years later I carry the same mission, presenting the same governor, a man in whose behalf the best argument is the man himself.

"At San Francisco, you who were there came to know him as one greatly loved by his state, whose personality and picturesque rise to high office produced, as you will remember, a spontaneous wave of good feeling among the delegates from every section of our land. Today he has become more than a favorite son. He is known throughout the country as one of the real leaders, one of whom millions of Americans regardless of party, are proud. It has been suggested that we would attempt to sweep him through to victory at this convention upon a wave of emotional appeal.

"Let me assure you at the outset that I shall make no such endeavor.

"In the very suggestion, however, there is tribute to the strength of this man. There is no need for me to portray the profound love which goes out to him from every class and every section of the community. If you would know what the hearts of the masses hold for him, ask anyone, when you leave this session ask the woman who serves you in the shop, the banker who cashes your check; the man who runs your elevator; the clerk in your hotel; men, women and children, rich or poor, high or low, and you will be told with a convincing unanimity that first in the affections of the people of this state, first far above all others and the power of all others to attain, is the man who has twice been honored with election to the governorship of the state of New York. And this is true of men and women not only in this state, but in every part of the union where his name has come to be a symbol for honesty, for deep understanding and for splendid service to the people.

"These are factors, this is evidence which you, as judges or rather as a great jury of fourteen hundred assembled here to render an unbiased verdict, must take into account. You are stewards of a sacred trust. To you has been given the solemn, two fold duty of setting forth anew the principles of our party and of choosing a standerd bearer who will at once give the greatest assurance of ability to perform the functions of the chief executive and the greatest assurance of victory.

"To be true to that trust we must be true to ourselves and put from our hearts and minds every sordid consideration, every ignoble personal prejudice and every individual allegiance to anything whatsoever other than the sacred principle upon which our country and our party stands.

"So in our final action we shall put aside any appeal to any passion or to any prejudice.

"Our declaration of principles will unite every Democrat and convince the men and women voters of the United States that the time is at hand when the guidance of our government is to be entrusted to the hands of a democratic president and a democratic congress. The depth to which our federal government has fallen was well portrayed to you by my old friends, the temporary and

LOUD IN PRAISE OF TOURIST CAMP

St. Louis People Shower Commendation on the Local Camp

NOTHING TO EXCEDE SAME

Scenic Beauty, Modern Conveniences, Excellent Service is Unexcelled

C. S. Jones and family, of St. Louis, Misscuri, auto tourists enroute to the north Pacific coast and then to Los Angeles, California, are loud in their praise of the Brainerd tourist camp grounds. They state that they have found nothing between St. Louis and Brainerd, even in the large cities through which they passed, that compared to the local camp.

Mr. Jones says that for scenic beauty, modern conveniences, and excellent service, the Brainerd tourist grounds are so far above the average that there is no comparison. He liked this camp so well that instead of staying only over night as was the original intention, they stopped in Brainerd two days. "We have spent quite a little money, as well as time in your city," said Mr. Jones. He is sending pictures of a fine catch of pike that he got in Gull lake, to his friends in the south.

Sixty tourists were accomodated at the local camp on Tuesday evening and sixty-one on Wednesday evening. A number of states are represented in this number, Iowa the largest of all. The list follows:

OPENING STATE FISHERIES AT REDBY

The Dispatch is in receipt of this letter from S. A. Selvog, superintendent of Minnesota State Fisheries:

On behalf of the Game and Fish Commissioner and the public through out the State of Minnesota, I would appreciate it if you would publish this letter as a news item, announcing the opening of the Minnesota State Fisheries at Redby, Minnesota, on Monday, July 7th, 1924.

It would be most difficult to acquaint the public with our opening date without the assistance of the press, owing to the fact that we do not generally open up according to date authorized by law, the same as private interests. We have withheld the opening of the season until July 7th this year for the reason that our production is limited under an agreement with the United States Indian Bureau, and when that limit has been reached the production would cease for the season, and therefore, we feel that we can be of better service to the public by supplying fish throughout the months of July and August when there is not always a scarcity, and prices go up beyond that which the ordinary folks can afford to pay.

It is our desire to dispose of a fair quantity of our production to the private home and we also solicit the patronage of the wholesale and retail dealers. Shipments can be made in twenty to thirty pound lots to private homes.

It may also be of interest to the public to know that we have just about completed a freezing and refrigerating plant in connection with the State Fisheries institution which will enable us to not only furnish perfect quality fish, but also be in a position to supply at all times.

Motor Trucks and Coaches

While only 40 railroads in the United States were listed last year as operating motor rail coaches, a late compilation shows a total of 157, or an increase of about 300 per cent. These figures show that the use of the motor rail coach has proven its economy of operation.

More and more is the country coming to the city by motor vehicle. In Cincinnati during the past year about 97 per cent of the city milk supply was hauled by motor truck; in Atlanta, the figures show 90 per cent; Kansas City, Mo., 75 per cent; Indianapolis, 60 per cent; Milwaukee 65 per cent; and Baltimore, 36 per cent. Other cities are fast falling into line and it will be only a short time before we can hope to see a motor truck service which will bring garden truck to the most distant point overnight.

Motor truck fleets are increasing in number very appreciably throughout the United States. The largest fleet in the country is that of the Western Electric Company in New York City, with 12,032 units. The next in line has 4,434, following down through to the last of 15 with a total of 790. It is worthy of notice that the combined fleets of seven of the biggest operators are in New York City with a total of 23,887.—Crookston Times.

Ten Good Commandments

1. Drive on the right side of the road; it's just as good as the left.
2. Slow down when approaching a cross road; it is nearly as dangerous as a railroad crossing.
3. Look out for children. You can never tell what they will do, and you are always in the wrong if you hit one.
4. Try to help instead of hindering the traffic officer; he is there for your good and he's got a tough job.
5. Be sure that your lights are not defective or glaring; it's no joke driving into a blinding glare, as you yourself know.
6. Read and obey the warning signs ;they are not put up as ornaments.
7. If you've got to speed—do it where it won't kill anybody but yourself.
8. When making minor repairs get all wheels off the pavement and stop where your car may be seen from both directions; otherwise you may stop longer than you anticipate.
9. Speeding around corners is a straight route to the hospital. Don't race past a stopped car. Some day the jury will call it manslaughter.
10. Use discretion. The fact that you had the right of way won't bring anybody back to life least, of all yourself.—New Hampshire Highways.

How Much Are We To Blame

What is to be the end of the reckless speed mania by auto drivers? Large city dailies give lists of killed and injured that are a travesty on decency and common sense.

One of our county contemporaries last week gave a gruesome account of such a killing. The poor victim was hurled into the air and fell splashing his brains and blood upon the pavement. The car jumped the ditch, climbed the other side, and plowed three hundred feet into a field of soft earth before it stopped. And then the item added: "It is not known whether the matter will be dropped or prosecution made."

In the name of common sense, why any doubt about it? Can there be any doubt that this driver was violating the speed law? Is it likely that our passiveness is a large contributing factor to deaths at the hands of these speed maniacs? Drive them and the drunken drivers with them, from the highways that were made for decent people.—Deer River News.

Apple of Discord.

The Apple of Discord was a golden fruit bearing the inscription "for the fairest," which was thrown by Eris (or Discord) into the midst of the company at the marriage of Peleus and Thetis. The prize was claimed by Juno, Minerva and Venus, and was awarded to Venus by Paris, who was called in to make the award. The decision brought about the Trojan war

Ancient Heathen Deity

Beelzebub was a heathen deity to whom the Jews ascribed the sovereignty of the evil spirits, calling him the "prince of the devils" (Matthew XII, 24). Beelzebub—or more correctly Beelzebul—is the name by which the god Baal was worshiped by the Ekronites. The word meant "lord of flies," it being the office of this deity to protect his worshipers from the flies and gnats with which Ekron was infested. As the Jews regarded all heathen deities as devils, the name "Beelzebub" was applied by them to the chief of the demons. Milton, however, in "Paradise Lost," makes Beelzebub second in power to Satan.—Kansas City Star.

Shark's Hide Valuable

A valuable part of the man-eating shark is the skin. The thin outer skin is removed by a secret process, and when dried it has a remarkable hardness, and is used by cabinet-makers for giving polish to hard woods, ivory and so on.

The inner skin is tanned so carefully that it eventually yields a waterproof, non-cracking leather. Different parts of the skin give different shades of color, and the tanning process succeeds in preserving these dark greens and browns so that shoes, traveling bags, purses, belts and similar articles made of the skin have quite a handsome appearance.

Shark's Hide Valuable

A valuable part of the man-eating shark is the skin. The thin outer skin is removed by a secret process, and when dried it has a remarkable hardness, and is used by cabinet-makers for giving polish to hard woods, ivory and so on.

The inner skin is tanned so carefully that it eventually yields a waterproof, non-cracking leather. Different parts of the skin give different shades of color, and the tanning process succeeds in preserving these dark greens and browns so that shoes, traveling bags, purses, belts and similar articles made of the skin have quite a handsome appearance.

MORE ACTUAL FARMERS ON REPUBLICAN TICKET

GEORGE J. VAN RHEE, publisher and editor of the Milaca Tribune, wields a trenchant pen and makes these observations, bringing out the point that the Republican party ticket really carries more actual farmers than does the Farmer-Labor. He states:

"One of the things that was impressed upon the farmers a few years ago by leaders of the Nonpartisan league and Farmer-Labor movement was the lack of representation that he has in state offices and congress. The agitators said 'dirt farmers' were needed to solve their problems and remedy their difficulties. The fact is that they seem to have gotten away from this appealing cry and the Farmer-Labor ticket is not as well represented by actual farmers as is the Republican.

"Many organizers are seeking berths with the Farmer-Labor party and lawyers are numerous. But the voters should scrutinize the nominees closely and undoubtedly they will. A nomination from a party that they consider the best possible avails nothing unless the candidate is amply fitted for the office. Magnus Johnson was elected to the U. S. senate by a protest vote but he is not fitted for the office and did not accomplish anything. It takes more than a mere random talker to get anything in congress, as he must be a man of principle and ability to do things. Eager candidates without the necessary qualifications may think that they can cop an office by merely getting the nomination for a popular party but we are constrained to believe that the voters will surprise them when casting their ballots at the November election."

SEES ONE LANGUAGE IN UNITED STATES

IN an address at Duluth, Senator Magnus Johnson voiced a great truth, something which should be consummated in the quickest possible period of time. Addressing the Swedish-American league festival, he said the day is coming when there will be but one language in this country, the American.

The senator counselled that the people should get together and accomplish this speedily. "You Scandinavians, you Norwegians, you Danes, the quicker we cement together our language, our customs with the American language and customs, the better it will be for the country," said he in conclusion.

The younger generation is quick to see this point.

ANENT SENATOR PAT HARRISON

THE Duluth News Tribune takes this fling at Senator Pat Harrison, the "keynoter" of the Democratic national convention. According to Pat the Republican party is about as superfluous as a dead mackerel on the beach. According to Pat's vision the party is hideous and boss-ridden and smells of oil.

"The moral is plain," says the Duluth News Tribune. "The thing to do is to put in a nice clean Democratic administration and let it proceed to remove the stains from our national escutcheon.

"And who is the man to do the job?

"Well, the chief candidate to date is the attorney for the oil company."

CRUSADE AGAINST ILLEGAL SPEEDING

LOS ANGELES, California, which by the way has more traffic accidents than New York City, has taken a stand on the question at last, induced by the Los Angeles Examiner editor. Car dealers and other associations are backing him up.

A Brainerd man, recent visitor in Los Angeles, said cars ran so closely at intersections that if blocked a fraction of a second he would be hit by the car in his rear and it and half a dozen more in the circle would have fenders smashed. Nobody seemed willing to concede an inch.

Special traffic courts heard the cases which sometimes piled up quicker than they could be disposed of.

EVERY now and then a Dispatch friend sends in an 80-page western paper with something of interest and he fails to mark the article in question, and if a man is real conscientious he will read every one of the 80 pages to see what the friend wished reproduced. A Dispatch friend recently sent in a paper from Nome, Alaska. It was a six page paper, but carried not a clue as to what was to be of interest to Brainerd. After some three months the man came to Brainerd and said the Alaskan paper had mentioned him in a two-liner. So it did, but there was nothing in the story to indicate the man came from Brainerd. Mark your articles, kind reader, and we can then locate them quickly and give you mention.

CHINA has taken to eating white bread and increasing our market centers. Five million sacks of foreign flour were imported through Hong Kong. American flour imported in 1923 amounted to 3,724,527 sacks. Canadian and Australian importation increased, while American flour supplies showed a slight decrease.

SCIENTIFIC circles are upset because a lie-detector has been invented which mechanically spots an untruth. That's nothing. A wife, from the time of Eve, needs no machine to catch her mate straying from the paths of the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth.

ALL the world was excited because an American flier worked from dawn to dusk with his plane. Every Minnesota farmer does the same trick in his farm work and nobody gives him a paragraph.

FISH are scarce down St. Paul-way. When a man catches a 30-inch pike, weight not stated, he gets a big mention in the paper.

"BUSINESS Has Turned the Corner," says a headline. We hope it doesn't make a mistake and shoot down into a blind alley.

SESSIONS of Congress, says the Detroit News, are getting to be an awful lot like a world war. Nobody wins.

dum independent of any political election upon the question of America's entrance into the league and world court.

The plank would safeguard this country's interests through reservations on the league covenant, upholding the Monroe Doctrine and leaving the United States free from entanglement in foreign affairs.

Senator Walsh of Massachusetts sponsored a plank which was adopted providing for government regulation of the anthracite coal industry and other necessities of life when controlled by monopolies. Another Walsh plank which was strongly urged by Senator Norris, Nebraska, would eliminate "lame ducks" from Congress. Under the constitutional amendment proposed Congress would assemble January 1 following election instead of in December the year following as now provided.

The constitutional amendments would be submitted directly to the people instead of the legislatures under another plank adopted. This has also been urged by republican progressives. Alternate planks modelled along the same lines suggested by Bernard M. Baruch combine a number of reforms designed to increase the purchasing power of the farmer's dollar. It promises reopening of foreign markets to farmers, to adjust the tariff, to cut the cost of living and agricultural production, to lower freight rates, to create a co-operative marketing system and restore prosperity.

ROLL CALL OF STATES RESUMED

Walsh obtained order at 2 p. m. after the Smith demonstration and the call of the roll of states was resumed. Senator Thomas F. Bayard of Delaware was recognized and went to the speaker's platform.

Senator Bayard, in a brief speech, placed in nomination former Senator Saulsbury of Delaware.

Florida, called next on the roll, yielded to Missouri and Chairman Hay of St. Louis was recognized by the chair.

"I'm sure if there is a radio at the White House there will soon be inaugurated there a campaign for a protective tariff on enthusiasm and against loud and unusual noise," Hay said.

In a short and spirited address he seconded the nomination of William Gibbs McAdoo.

"In his office in the White House there will be no Wall street desk or Palm Beach private wires," Hay declared.

The call of the roll of states proceeded to Illinois, when Louis Stevenson was recognized. Stevenson declared Illinois had McAdoo boosters, supporters of Smith and friends of John W. Davis. It was the first mention of the name of Davis, who has been mentioned as a very strong "dark horse" possibility. There was scattered applause. Then he nominated former Secretary of Agriculture and the Treasury David Houston. He declared that the fact he was permitted to make the nomination as a matter of personal courtesy "proves that Illinois is not boss-ridden."

Michael E. Igoe also of Illinois delegation followed Stevenson and announced that he would make a brief seconding speech. He added—for Governor Al Smith—and got a great hand for his efforts.

In relating the virtues of Smith the first direct statement on oil as affecting a candidate was made.

"One thing about Al Smith," he said, "is that he is untouched by oil."

There was applause, mixed with hisses and cries from some of the delegations, "Talk about your own candidate" — "Rotten" and other calls were heard.

At his conclusion he said: "We and a good many other people are all for your idol, your Al—for Alfred E. Smith."

The sirens broke loose again. Once more yells, waving of flags and bedlam. But there was no further parading. The din died out under signal from the New York delegation floor leaders.

Still another of the Illinois delegation—James A. Meeks of Danville, was recognized. He paid high tribute to McAdoo's organizing ability and other attributes, and seconded his nomination on behalf of the McAdoo element in the Illinois delegation.

The galleries were beginning to thin out some. Indiana was called next on the roll, and Frederick Van Nuys of Indianapolis mounted the platform and placed in nomination Senator Samuel Ralston of Indiana, the first, second, and apparently last choice of Tom Taggard for the presidency. Then Van Nuys got away to a popular start by saying he would keep his remarks within the limits of a "single printed page." His speech was frequently interrupted by scattered applause.

In the band loft "The Banks of the Wabash" was struck up softly. Miss Anna Case, who has become the outstanding hit of the convention, came forward again and led in the singing. The Indiana men stood on chairs and Tom Taggart sang with the rest. There were cheers and applause at the conclusion. Then the Indiana delegates sang their own song alone as the convention quieted down.

"Our Home is Down in Indiana," was the piece the Indianans had.

The call of the roll of states proceeded. Iowa sent up M. F. Healy of Fort Dodge, blind state senator, to second the nomination of Smith.

The blind orator described a pilgrimage to the Wilson crypt at St. Albans a few days ago.

"I stood in that presence and by accident my hand came in contact with the flowers that love and devotion had placed there that morning."

Watch Responds to the Personal Touch

Of all mechanical devices we use, a watch comes nearest to having life, senses and feeling. It reacts to cold and heat, dampness and dry air, recognizes good treatment from bad; in fact, it is as sensitive to the way it is cared for as a pet dog would be, says Popular Science Monthly. A watch even has temperament that it acquires rapidly according to the temperament of its wearer. If two persons were to exchange watches that had been keeping perfect time, the watches would proceed to get out of order quickly.

A watch is the most delicate and complex mechanism of daily use. It has 211 parts, some so small that they are just about visible to the unaided eye. A break of maladjustment of any of these parts is sufficient to mar its utility as a timepiece. To make a watch requires about 4,000 distinct operations, involving a year's work. Part of the mechanism strikes 157,000,000 blows a year, while the balance wheel revolves a distance of 4,800 miles. No other piece of machinery known is subjected to such use. Yet a good watch will keep perfect time through two or three generations.

Once your watch has been regulated to fit your gait, it will require very little attention. It should be oiled once a year, protected from dust, dampness and sudden jolts, and wound every 24 hours at exactly the same time to the minute. With this slight amount of care even a cheap watch should last for years.

Early Locomotive Did Not Operate in Rain

Nearly all the great inventions and discoveries which have made modern life so wonderful and at the same time so strenuous have been produced within the last century. A huge step forward was made, something about a century ago, when the steam engine was adapted to haul trains of "wagons" on railroads. A copy of the Philadelphia Chronicle of that period contains this unique advertisement: Notice—The locomotive engine (built by Mr. W. Baldwin of this city) will depart daily when weather is fair with a train of passengers; on rainy days horses will be attached." This engine, "built by Mr. Baldwin," was the beginning of the great Baldwin locomotive works, which is now one of the biggest things of the kind in the world. Mr. Baldwin made the astonishing boast that his original engine would "draw 30 tons on a level road." Now a single freight car will hold twice that much.

GRANDMA USED SAGE TEA TO DARKEN HAIR

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.

GRANDMA USED SAGE TEA TO DARKEN HAIR

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.

Children Receive Much Benefit From Out-of-Doors Games

The bureau of education, through its newly developed division of physical education and school hygiene, covers the whole wide field embraced under these headings, and not a small portion of its energies are devoted to the most important task of helping to develop and encourage the ways and means of outdoor recreation. A half century since there was little need for such work, as the schoolground was of ample dimensions and the spirit of play needed no stimulus nor direction. The playground, however, through a nearsighted policy of economy, was in danger of being lost and the natural inclination of children to play has been waning. The playground had to be rescued and restored and the child encouraged and taught how to play, not only for the bodily benefits to be derived from out-of-doors exercise, but for the mental and moral qualities which are developed and strengthened by games.

Information and Advice.

It is as a source of information and advice that the bureau reaches its largest clientele, and information and advice are forthcoming as to the size of school playgrounds, their preparation, laying out and equipment. For its publications on the organization and management of athletics and other games there has been a large demand from all over the country and from abroad. It has lent its aid in the revival of folk dances, which had their origin in the out-of-doors life of our ancestors and are as suitable to the playground as to the gymnasium, and these have found a place especially in the vacation schools maintained on playgrounds by so many of our city departments of education.

The bureau is in close co-operation with other agencies which aim to conserve space for play and to encourage the use of the out-of-doors, such as the National Physical Education association, the Playground and Recreation Association of America, the American Child Health association, the Amateur Athletic federation, the Association of Summer Camps, etc. It is in co-operation with the state departments of education and has been influential in bringing together the directors of physical education in these states for conferences in which the development of the sports of the playground has been one of the most important subjects for discussion.

Municipal Playgrounds.

In a study of progress in equipment and methods in school and municipal playgrounds recently made by the bureau it was learned that about 75 per cent of cities now have municipal playgrounds and nearly as many are providing playgrounds for all new school buildings. In many cases these grounds are inadequate but in a few instances they afford a space of as much as 300 square feet per child. One state sets a good example by supplying an average of twelve acres of ground for all its schools while in another the motto is "No elementary school with less than five acres and no high school with less than ten."

We are bringing back our vanishing playgrounds and the spirit of healthful play is again assuming its rightful place in the realm of education.

It has been said that the battles of a nation are lost or won on its school grounds, but health and endurance are of as much value for purposes of peace as for war, and the bureau places first on the educational program, not only in theory but in practice, the unfolding of the bodily possibilities along with good mental and moral traits. All these qualities need for their full development a contact with nature and normal association with human nature in the great out-of-doors.

When you need more room—it is there!

The World's Largest Producer of Quality Automobiles

THE Big-Six Touring is a seven-passenger car—not merely a seven-passenger body mounted on a five-passenger chassis.

It was designed and built for seven-passenger service—with a motor of ample power and stamina for seven-passenger satisfaction.

Then, too, with the auxiliary seats folded away, the Big-Six becomes the most desirable five-passenger car in which you have ridden, with room enough for all the luggage you will ever need.

Big-Six appearance is attractive, distinctive, and in good taste. Its performance, acceleration, flexibility and dependability are known and respected the world over.

No car, regardless of price, surpasses it in quality or completeness of equipment.

If a smaller manufacturer or assembler were to build the Big-Six—of equal quality and workmanship—his price would be $3,500 — perhaps more.

But Big-Six overhead is distributed over six times as many units as are built by any Big-Six competitor, hence Big-Six cost and selling price are surprisingly low.

Don't buy blindfolded. Examine, ride in and drive the Big-Six before you buy any other car.

F. D. ROOSEVELT NOMINATING GOVERNOR AL SMITH

the permanent chairman of this convention. Corruption in government is and will be one of the overshadowing issues. Our candidate must be able to stand upon that.

"Make no mistake, the country will remember that , and the country will remember it too, that on our governor for over 20 years in public office the white light of publicity has pitilessly beaten and revealed only spotless integrity. Save for those whose enmity is a badge of honor, he has no enemies, and his bitterest political adversaries have never charged him with the slightest deviation from the highest standard of political and ethical morality and the highest ideals of responsibility.

"And there is another phase. The country cries out in consternation and contempt over the continued dissensions between the executive and legislative branches of the government during the last four years. In theory our constitution provides for a system of checks and balances. Under the complete lack of leadership in a Republican white house and a Republican capital, we have had all the checks but one of the balance.

"Therefore we must give to the country a president experienced in administration and capable of restoring team work and good will between the executive and the congress. These qualifications are rare, but I submit to you no experiment. This man's record is history; it has brought the highest commendation from the citizens of this state, men and women, Republican and Democrat, farmer and city dweller alike.

"That record was made doubly significant in his first term as governor when he faced a legislature wholly controlled by the opposite party and again in his second term when he faced a Republican assembly. His ability to persuade and cooperate without abandonment of principle—the very essence of leadership—proves that his inauguration as president would mark the beginning of a new era of good feeling and practical accomplishment between the president and the congress of the United States.

"Nor can the disgraceful shortcomings of our federal government be explained by cynics and pessimists who declare that the conduct of public business cannot approach the efficiency of private business. With this view I take determined issue.

"Here in this state, through the leadership of this governor, governmental efficiency has so increased that the executives of other states have done us the honor of seeking to copy our model. He was a pioneer for the budget system. He was a pioneer in the reorganization and simplification of governmental departments. Through it all he has held up and strengthened the system of promotion in the government service for merit only and the appointment or to public office of men and women preemminently qualified for their tasks.

"Because of his ideals and methods of government he has won not only the undivided support of his own party but the public endorsement of great civic non-partisan bodies of the city and state.

"Give this man the opportunity of wide service. I guarantee he will make the dry bones rattle in Washington and that no longer will cynics and pessimists point the finger of scorn at our executive machinery. And that machine under his directive force will function not only well but always forward in the vital service of humanity—and that spells the true progressive.

"I have had the good fortune to visit every state of the union. I can understand and appreciate the just pride which you men and women from the west and south feel in the accomplishments of your progressive leaders. But we too, under the inspiration of our governor, have been in the van of progress for humanity. Always his mind has been concerned with the condition of the less fortunate.

"Under his guiding hand our state has recognized by its statute that its most priceless asset is the life and health of its women and children. He obtained laws prohibiting night work for women and the employment of small children. He secured state pensions for widowed mothers and state aid for the promotion of the health of rural communities. That is progressive. He has sponsored a practical workmen's compensation law, and has established labor boards to mediate disputes between employer and employe; he was responsible for the best factory laws ever passed in any state.

10:30 PARADE AT LUM PARK

Many Business Houses of City Will be Represented With Floats

The business men of Brainerd are taking a lively interest in the Fourth of July celebration which will be staged at Lum park under the direction of the local American Legion post. Many of the merchants have offered financial assistance on the project should the Legion require it, but that organization is planning to put over the celebration without such subscriptions. Business houses are, however, donating articles of merchandise from their stocks which will be used as prizes in the sports contests.

Much interest is centered around the parade which is to be staged at 10:30 o'clock in the park. Quite a number of business men have promised to enter floats in this parade, and there will be many arranged by fraternal organizations as well as by individuals.

This parade is unique, in that it will be a miniature replica of the big street parades. The vehicles used are to be limited in size to those that can be pulled or pushed by children. Parents will enter elaborately decorated doll carriages or other small floats, propelled by their children and merchants are planning small floats that can be handled by the youngsters. This latter section is to be known as the "Business Men's Novelty Parade," and the merchants are entering heartily into the spirit of the plan by pledging themselves to prepare a float.

Those who have already signified their intention to participate in the parade are:

First National Bank.
Northern Home Furnishing Co.
Judd Wright & Son.
Folsom Music Co.
Peterson Clothing Co.
Gruenhagen Co.
Office Supply Co.
Brainerd Model Laundry.
John M. Bye Clothing Co.
Patek Furniture Co.
E. H. Jones.
John Carlson & Son.
Lively Auto Co.
Ten Thousand Lakes Garage.

The Lions club at its Wednesday night meeting, voted to enter a float, and the American Legion will re represented. Other civic and fraternal organizations will be asked to do likewise. Every business house is invited and urged to participate in this parade.

Notice to Merchants

We shall appreciate it if you will let us know your requirements early for decorating your floats for July 4th.

Missionary Society

The Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary society of the Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. C. H. Varner, 704 Pine street, on Friday afternoon, June 27th, at 2:30 o'clock. Members are urged to be present and visitors are welcome.

Perseverance Class

The Perseverance class of the Evangelical church will meet in the church basement on Friday evening. The painting committee is requested to be present. The Sincerity class is especially invited to attend. Friends are welcome.

Hesitate at Intersections

Scott Swisher of the LeSueur Center Leader-Democrat thinks highway crossings are equally or more dangerous than highway-railway crossings, about which so much is being said. There is no doubt of it. At Ellendale the same state-aid highway that crosses the Rock Island railway also crosses the Jefferson highway a mile and a half east of here. The traffic over the railway crossing is much greater than that over the highway crossing, but there has been no accident at the former point in the past five years, while at the latter we can recall at least three offhand. It is true that when automobile meets automobile the destruction is not apt to be quite so complete as when a railway train is one of the principals, but the difference is not great. Every motorist should aproach the highway crossing with the same caution that is urged at railway intersections of the road.—Ellendale Eagle.

GOPHER POISON TAKEN BY ERROR

Clarence Wheeler, age 23 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wheeler, of Long Lake township, was rushed to Northwestern hospital Wednesday night suffering from poison which he took by mistake.

The young man intended to take a dose of medicine and groping in the dark, took a bottle containing gopher poison. He was rushed to the hospital where antidotes were administered. He was reported as being out of danger this morning.

Purdy-Peterson

Miss Ellen Peterson and Leslie Purdy were united in mariage at 8 o'clock Saturday evening, June 21st, at the home of the bride's parents in Minneapolis.

The ceremony was performed in the presence of only the immediate relatives of the contracting parties, and was followed by a wedding dinner, after which the newlyweds left for Montana and Yellowstone park on their honeymoon. They expect to be gone about two weeks.

The bride is well known in Brainerd, where she was the instructor in the public schools for several years. For the past two years she has been teaching in Battle Lake.

The groom is a son of Mrs. A. Purdy, 703 Oak street, Brainerd. He is employed in the general offices of the Minnesota & International railway.

The many friends of these young people join in offering congratulations and best wishes.

Anderson-Mallory

The following wedding announcement is taken from the LaCrosse, Wis., Tribune. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew G. Anderson of Brainerd:

At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Mallory, 1507 Adams street, Gladys Leachea became the bride of Mr. Roy E. Anderson of Brainerd, Minn., on Wednesday evening at eight o'clock. The bride was attended by Miss Frances Larson of Minneapolis and Mr. Lawrence Mallory, brother of the bride, was the best man. The ring ceremony was performed by Dr. John Newton Strain of the North Presbyterian church. The bride wore a gown of light blue crepe de chine and cream lace, with corsage of pink roses and lavender sweet peas. The bridesmaid's gown was of orchid silk with corsage of pink roses and lavender sweet peas. A two course supper was served to about fifty guests. The house decorations were peonies and roses. The bride received many handsome gifts.

The out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Bert Bettis of Peoria, Ill., Mrs. Bessie Leiferman and daughter, Helen, of Rock Island, Mr. Fred Bettis of St. Paul, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Wohleirs and family of Minneapolis, Mr. and Mrs. Anderson and son, Elwood, of Brainerd, Minn. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson left on a motor trip to Minneapolis, Duluth and Lake of the Woods in Canada, and after July 1 will be at home to their friends at 1507 Adams street, this city. The bride wore on her journey a tan Canton crepe suit.

Norwegian-Danish Lutheran Choir

The choir of the Norwegian-Danish Lutheran church pleasantly surprised Miss Ida Peterson in the church parlors on Wednesday evening.

Miss Peterson is organist and director of the choir, and in appreciation of her faithful services the choir members presented her with a beautiful silk umbrella, Rev. O. L. Bolstad making the presentation.

ROOSEVELT TRAIL TO WEST COAST

Definite Link, Portland to Minneapolis, Passes Through Brainerd

ALSO CASS LAKE, BEMIDJI

Monogram "TR" in White Letters Upon a Red Background

(From Bemidji Daily Pioneer)

A definite link between Minneapolis and Spokane and Portland via Cass Lake, Bemidji and Glacier National park has been definitely established following the completion of the marking on the new Theodore Roosevelt trail.

T. C. Hutchinson of Williston, N. D., secretary of the North Dakota division of the T. R. highway, completed the marking of the Minneapolis-Cass Lake branch Sunday. The marking is the monogram "TR" in white letters upon a red background. The route is well marked all the way from Minneapolis to the Pacific coast. The new branch routes thru Anoka, Elk River, Princeton, Milaca along the shore of Mille Lacs Lake to Brainerd, Walker, Cass Lake and Bemidji.

"The TR trail will divert traffic from the pavement between Little Falls and Minneapolis," Mr. Hutchinson said. "It is the only direct marked trail between Minneapolis and Grand Forks. Between Milaca and Cass Lake the trail is routed along the shore of 36 lakes which are visible from the highway."

That towns along the new trail are greatly pleased was evidenced by letters Mr. Hutchinson showed to Perry S. William, executive secretary of the Minneapolis Civic and Commerce association from commercial club secretaries along the way. M. N. Koll secretary, Cass Lake Commercial club, wrote:

"It will save thousands of people weekly the trouble of stopping at various towns to inquire for directions for once they have received the information anywhere this side of Portland to 'take the TR to Minneapolis" they will be saved the trouble of asking across each state for any more information. May it be kept always marked as it is now and may it serve to bring all the towns into closer relationship."

R. J. Broughton, secretary of the Walker Automobile club, Walker wrote:

"The route the TR highway association has selected seems to be very good and should be of use to your publicity bureau as there will be less confusion in directing tourists if they desire to come to this part of the country."

Mr. Hutchinson returned to Williston over the new highway Monday.

W. C. T. U. Meeting

The W. C. T. U. will meet on Friday afternoon at three o'clock at the Y. M. C. A. building. The study of the constitution will be continued. All members are requested to be present.

New York, June 26.—In predicting an American triumph in the track and field games at Paris in July, consideration has been given to the fact that as the races get longer this country's strength lessens.

In the sprints, the United States is supreme. Four men could acquire the dread "Charley horse" or suffer some other calamity, and we have four other short-distance men to fill their places.

But there are 23 events on the track and field program, and in some of the others America will have to take a back seat.

The French have succeeded in arranging matters so that only four men from any one nation can enter any one event, with exception of the marathon, in which six may start. This means that the most points this country can win in the 100 meters, for instance, is 22.

It would not be surprising if we did get just that many in both the 100 and 200 meters.

In the 400 meters we have J. Coard Taylor's record-breaking run at Cambridge to raise our hopes of ultimate victory and a place at the top of the flagpole, but here the ingress of European stars upon the point-winning places begins.

In the 800 meters, with Bill Richardson, Leland Stanford, S. C. Enek, Penn State's great runner; Ray Dodge, Ray Watson and the game, but inexperienced, "Soapy" Watters, the United States is well represented, but it is probable that the French, English and other European middle-distance stars will break through the American front here. However, in both the 400 and 800, we have every right to expect that this country will get as many points as all the other nations put together.

Aware of the fact that America's strength was "team strength," with a whole lot of good men around, the powers that were in this 8th Olympiad saw to it that first place counted 10 points, second 5, third 4, fourth 3, fifth 2 and sixth one. This militates against the United States, but we should worry! We have not only a lot of good men, but perhaps the one best man in the four short races.

In the 1,500 meters and the 3,000 meters, we find our main strength in those sterling Chicago athletes, Mr. Joiey Ray and Mr. Ray Buker, "Ike and Mike" of the Illinois A. C. At Cambridge, Mr. Buker attended to the shorter of the two runs, while Mr. Ray accounted for a first place in the longer.

Unfortunately for these boys, there is a Finn named Nurmi, who, if right, and he generally is, can run them into the ground one after the other. And Johnny Romig, our best at 5,000 meters, and Verne Booth, in the 10,000 meter event, are likely to encounter trouble in this same direction.

The Scandinavians and the Letts and Finns and the boys from other parts of the top of Europe seem able to get going and run on forever just a little bit faster than anyone else wants to run. We have nothing in either the 5,000 meters or the 10,000 meters to hope for, except the chance of picking up a couple of points to go with the grand total.

Our steeplechasers didn't show anything remarkable before they left. They had plenty of grit, but that is not remarkable in the team the United States sent on the "America" a couple of weeks ago. It's the required thing. R. Payne of Ohio State, who runs awkwardly, but without apparent effort, slipped and fell in this event after he had been around the stadium a dozen times and was blown and leg weary. But he was up and after them in no time at all, and when it came to the gun for the final lap, he raced big Marvin Rick into submission in the stretch. Nothing much for America in this event.

But when it comes to the hurdles, what a different story! Here again the United States has a plethora of high-class talent which would make the acquisition of 20 points or more in both the 110 meter and 400 meter timber events not a surprise.

Consider the class. Karl Anderson was supposed to be our best. He had the misfortune to fall at the last hurdle in the trials, got up and tried gamely to crawl across the line on bleeding hands and knees. He was rewarded by a chance in the finals, and although his slight injuries did not affect him, he was shut out! Dan Kinsey of Illinois pressed H. Guthrie to record time before the Ohio State timber-topper beat him, with F. P. Johnson, who broke a world mark himself in a trial heat (the time, incidentally, not being allowed), a close third.

In the 400 meter hurdles we have two men capable of world-record time, and better—George Taylor of Grinnell and Charley Brookins of Iowa, while it would not be surprising if C. F. Coulter and Ivan Riley accounted for third and fourth places, if no better, when this event is run at Colombes Stadium.

(Tomorrow America's chances in the field events will be discussed.)

AMERICAN LEAGUE RACE CLOSEST IN CIRCUIT'S HISTORY

New York, June 26—Not for years has the American league presented such a strange yet tense situation as is before the public today.

Washington, of all clubs, is in the lead, the Senators going into first place yesterday by defeating the New York Yankees again, while the Detroit Tigers, who had slipped into first place on Monday, dropped a double header to St. Louis and went back to third.

The race is the closest that the Ban Johnson circuit has ever had. Washington is leading but is only two games ahead of St. Louis, which club is fifth. Tris Speaker's Indians are sixth, but only three games back of first.

The Yankees lost a double header to the Senators on Monday and the defeat yesterday has pulled the Yanks back three full games.

Russell, former New York hurler, went to the Washington mound after Zahniser had been knocked off the hill and held his former mates.

Washington won the game in the ninth, when Pipp and Schang collided going after Peckinpaugh's foul and then the former Yankee player hit a home run.

LEE FOHL PERFORMING WONDERS AT BOSTON

Chicago, June 25.—The Boston Red Sox are commanding attention by their excellent playing.

What is the answer? Lee Fohl. The club was strengthened by the addition of Steve O'Neill, Wambsganss, Veach, Ike Boone and Dudley Lee, but Fohl is back of it all.

Fohl has always been able to do wonders with rundown baseball properties. He accomplished the feat at Cleveland and again in St. Louis. After reaching the goal he was let out in both cities. It is often difficult for a manager to refrain from telling a ball player how bad he is. Fohl can do it in such a way that the player is benefited and goes back trying to do his best. Fohl spends all season on the coaching lines and no one hears him but his players. He is the personification of the constructive critic.

BLANK TIGERS WITH 8 TO 0 SCORE AT KOERING FIELD

The N. P. shops remain in first place in the baseball league standings by virtue of their victory over the Tigers last night at the Koering grounds, by the score of 8 to 0. This is the second shut-out game of the season, the Tigers being on the short end in each instance.

Norman of the shops collected four hits in four times at bat, two of them being for extra bases. Stevens pitched a good game, getting sixteen strike-outs and passing none. A complete box score of the game will appear in tomorrow's Dispatch. Tonight the Seals and Pirates clash at the Koering grounds.

Score by innings:

N. P. Shops	121	113	00	—8
Tigers	000	000	00	—0

Batteries—N. P. Shops, Stevens and Norman; Tigers, Elvig and Bedal.

SOUTHERN MINNESOTA GOLF TOURNEY AT FAIRMONT JULY 31

Fairmont, Minn., June 26.—This city will play host to golfers of southern Minnesota on July 31 and Aug. 1.

It will be the third annual tourney. Teams are expected to be entered from Albert Lea, Austin, Blue Earth, Winnebago, Faribault, Mankato, Owatonna, Red Wing, Rochester, Waseca and Winona clubs.

Each club is limited to 15 players. Eight constitute a team. The tourney will be 36 holes medal play. The low gross score winner will be the champion.

CURVED BALL PUTS BIG STRAIN ON ARM

Wonderful Thing to Give Some Batters.

Pitching isn't what it used to be. Ed Walsh says so and Ed was one of the greatest pitchers of his time and therefore must know something about pitching.

"The boys don't come up any more with a curve ball," Ed says. "Now a curve requires a lot of work to attain, but after you get a good curve it is the most useful thing in the pitcher's stock to throw in a pinch.

"I never was a curve ball pitcher, but the spitter was allowed in my day. I guess," he continued, "one of the reasons why the young men don't take to the curve more readily is because it puts a strain on the arm. It catches you in the elbow and there is no escape from the penalty it takes on the throwing arm. But the curve is a wonderful thing when certain batters are facing you in a pinch.

"There are some batters like Cobb, Speaker, Collins and a few others who are likely to outsmart the pitcher in the pinch, but as a general rule if you can give the man at the plate a curve when the situation is tense you have the long end of it."

Walsh is performing quite a valuable service for the Sox. He is schooling the young pitchers not only upon the field, but in private conferences he is imparting his knowledge of the pitching art to the kids as fast as they absorb it.

What is the answer? Lee Fohl. The club was strengthened by the addition of Steve O'Neill, Wambsganss, Veach, Ike Boone and Dudley Lee, but Fohl is back of it all.

Fohl has always been able to do wonders with rundown baseball properties. He accomplished the feat at Cleveland and again in St. Louis. After reaching the goal he was let out in both cities. It is often difficult for a manager to refrain from telling a ball player how bad he is. Fohl can do it in such a way that the player is benefited and goes back trying to do his best. Fohl spends all season on the coaching lines and no one hears him but his players. He is the personification of the constructive critic.

BLANK TIGERS WITH 8 TO 0 SCORE AT KOERING FIELD

The N. P. shops remain in first place in the baseball league standings by virtue of their victory over the Tigers last night at the Koering grounds, by the score of 8 to 0. This is the second shut-out game of the season, the Tigers being on the short end in each instance.

Norman of the shops collected four hits in four times at bat, two of them being for extra bases. Stevens pitched a good game, getting sixteen strike-outs and passing none. A complete box score of the game will appear in tomorrow's Dispatch. Tonight the Seals and Pirates clash at the Koering grounds.

Score by innings:

N. P. Shops	121	112	00	—8
Tigers	000	000	00	—0

Batteries—N. P. Shops, Stevens and Norman; Tigers, Elvig and Bedal.

Standing including last night's game:

Team	W	L	T	Pct.
N. P. Shops	2	0	0	1000
Seals	1	0	1	1000

SOUTHERN MINNESOTA GOLF TOURNEY AT FAIRMONT JULY 31

Fairmont, Minn., June 26.—This city will play host to golfers of southern Minnesota on July 31 and Aug. 1.

It will be the third annual tourney. Teams are expected to be entered from Albert Lea, Austin, Blue Earth, Winnebago, Faribault, Mankato, Owatonna, Red Wing, Rochester, Waseca and Winona clubs.

Each club is limited to 15 players. Eight constitute a team. The tourney will be 36 holes medal play. The low gross score winner will be the champion.

CURVED BALL PUTS BIG STRAIN ON ARM

Wonderful Thing to Give Some Batters.

Pitching isn't what it used to be. Ed Walsh says so and Ed was one of the greatest pitchers of his time and therefore must know something about pitching.

"The boys don't come up any more with a curve ball," Ed says. "Now a curve requires a lot of work to attain, but after you get a good curve it is the most useful thing in the pitcher's stock to throw in a pinch.

"I never was a curve ball pitcher, but the spitter was allowed in my day. I guess," he continued, "one of the reasons why the young men don't take to the curve more readily is because it puts a strain on the arm. It catches you in the elbow and there is no escape from the penalty it takes on the throwing arm. But the curve is a wonderful thing when certain batters are facing you in a pinch.

"There are some batters like Cobb, Speaker, Collins and a few others who are likely to outsmart the pitcher in the pinch, but as a general rule if you can give the man at the plate a curve when the situation is tense you have the long end of it."

Walsh is performing quite a valuable service for the Sox. He is schooling the young pitchers not only upon the field, but in private conferences he is imparting his knowledge of the pitching art to the kids as fast as they absorb it.
